Fitness For Its Purpose

TOO many fathers or "fashioners" of printed matter (sometimes the advertiser and sometimes the printer) have striven for originality to such an extent that they have achieved freakishness. Some have been ultra dignified, or "stiltedly" conservative, and some have achieved an over-ornate and "splendiferous" effect.

Others have spent money and effort to accomplish a superlative degree of mechanical excellence; while still others, catering to their own vanity or personal tastes, have produced what they liked to feast their own eyes upon, losing sight of the real objective, the fact that it is the recipient's palate which it is essential to please.

In recent years, the buyer of printing has had repeatedly urged upon him, the large equipment of this printer, the quality of workmanship of that printer, the dispatch with which the other printer completes his product, or the economy of another, and still another dwells on the service he renders.

Now, while some printers feature one or more of these different items, our organization and establishment can justly claim all of them in a large measure.

But, what we want to emphasize is the importance of "fitness for its purpose," and the attention we give to it in all the component parts of a piece of printing.

In view of the large percentage of printing that is mediocre in character from the standpoint of conception as well as mechanical treatment; and which, because of the deficiencies in either or both make the resultant product either fall short of its mission or else be merely an expense, it behooves the buyer of printing to select a printer who not only senses the vital necessity of creating work that "fits its purpose," but who has the ability to produce it.

It has remained for remarkably few printers to put into tangible form the idea that "fitness for its purpose" should be the prevailing thought in the creation and production of printing.

If there is one thing more than another that marks our work, it is caused by this idea, which is predominant in the minds of those composing our organization—i. e., "fitness for its purpose."

At no period is this fitness more vitally essential than at the present time.

If you wish, we should like to have a representative call who can talk intelligently with you on your printing problems.

New York's Greatest Store

John Wanamaker---Formerly A. T. Stewart

Greatest in volume of sales.

Greatest in volume of merchandise.

Greatest in area of store buildings—in addition to the old A. T. Stewart structure covering the entire block between Broadway and Fourth Avenue and Ninth and Tenth Streets, the John Wanamaker business includes the new Wanamaker Building covering another block on Broadway between Eighth and Ninth Streets and rising fourteen stories in the air, and two underground, with a subway station within the store.

Maintaining the economies that come from a co-operative concentrated business under one roof and one management, the John Wanamaker organization is made up of

Fifty or More Specialty Stores

—each as individual and as highly specialized as a shop which carries on only one line of business.

THE JEWELRY STORE ranks among the half dozen good jewelry stores of New York.

THE BOOK STORE is ranked by people who know ahead of any other store of its kind.

THE PIANO STORE and the TALKING MACHINE SALONS are unique in their individuality and service.

THE FURNITURE STORE, occupying three floors in the new Wanamaker building is without equal in America—in the business transacted, in the volume, quality and variety of the stocks always on hand.

THE CARPET AND RUG STORES, HOUSE FURNISHING STORES, the CHINA AND GLASS STORES, the BEDDING STORES, the PICTURE GALLERIES—all bear the Wanamaker individuality which is unique in the business world.

The old Stewart Store has become the WOMAN'S STORE—the centre of fashion in New York. Here are gathered the Fashion Salons of women's dresses, suits, wraps, coats, lingerie, corsets, negligees.

Here is the MOST IMPORTANT SILK MARKET in America carrying out the old Stewart tradition for fine silks.

Here are the DRESS GOODS, LACES, TRIMMINGS, in large variety.

Here is the PURE LINEN STORE.

Here is the FANCY GOODS STORE.

Here are the LEATHER GOODS, the TOILET GOODS, and the CANDY STORE—all highly specialized.

Here is the BABY STORE, the BOYS' STORE, the GIRLS' AND YOUNG WOMEN'S STORE—each a leader in its class.

Here is the SHOE STORE for women and children—recognized as foremost in the business.

Here is the store of HOSIERY AND UNDERWEAR, of HANDKERCHIEFS, of women's NECKWEAR AND VEILINGS —all richly stocked with new merchandise.

THE MEN'S STORE is a highly specialized business occupying the entire main floor of the new Wanamaker building and circling the Burlington Arcade, which is the centre of men's fashions in New York. Here will be found clothing, furnishings, hosiery and underwear, walking sticks, shoes, hats, custom tailoring, sporting goods, and on the gallery just above a barber and hair dressing shop.

INTRODUCTORY

R. L. Polk & Co., (Inc.) herewith presents the TROW NEW YORK GENERAL DIRECTORY of the Boroughs of Manhattan and the Bronx for 1915.

For the past 127 years the New York City Directory has been published by the Trow Directory, Printing & Bookbinding Co. as a department of its organization. The printing and bookbinding divisions of the business having expanded to a point where they demanded the entire time and attention of the management, the Trow Co. turned its Directory interests over to R. L. Polk & Co. (Inc.), confident in the belief that this company, with its national organization, and devoting, as it does, all of its efforts to the publication of Directories, is better equipped to furnish New York a reliable and up-to-date Directory in every respect than the Trow Company could handling it as a department of its own business. The present volume is the result.

CONTENTS

This Directory, which in one volume contains practically all of the information formerly available only through the use of three separate directories, viz., Trow's General Directory, Trow's Copartnership and Corporations Directory, and Trow's Classified Business Directory, marks the establishment of a new era in the publication of the New York Directory.

This Directory contains 2,656 pages. Of these, 72 pages are devoted to miscellaneous information regarding the City, State and Federal Government, Churches, Schools, Societies, etc. The following 1832 pages contain names of individuals, copartnerships and corporations arranged alphabetically. These pages contain 1,104,676 names of private citizens, or more than double the number listed in any former New York Directory. This fact evinces the thoroughness of the canvass for information and the extent of the efforts of the publishers to produce a Directory as nearly perfect as it is possible to make a work of its character embracing such an enormous volume of information. Following the names of individuals will be found their occupation, residence address, and in many instances their business connections.

Residence addresses of professional and business men having offices in Manhattan or the Bronx are given even though outside of either Borough.

Copartnerships are followed by names of partners; Corporations by names of officers and the State by which chartered; Registered Trade Names by names of proprietors.

The Buyers' Guide occupies the next 240 pages. In it will be found, classified according to lines of business, attractive display advertisements of those engaged in various industries and business cards of the leading professional men. The remaining 386 pages contain the Classified Business Directory.

The aggregate saving to the community in time, labor and money under this improved plan is apparent, and in presenting this issue of the Directory the information has been so arranged and classified as to make it invaluable, and it interprets Mr. Polk's slogan:

"THE DIRECTORY IS THE COMMON INTERMEDIARY BETWEEN BUYER AND SELLER."

POPULATION

Noah Webster wrote a descriptive introductory for the first New York City Directory published one hundred and twenty-nine years ago. If therein, moved by the spirit of prophecy, he had visioned the wonderful city of today it would have been classed as a phantasy of his brain—yet his children's children would have witnessed its consummation. That is the marvel of New York.

London, Paris, Berlin, Vienna, Petrograd, Moscow and other cities have evolved through centuries of time; beside them New York is a city of a day, yet within the span of a century it has passed them all, with the exception of London. The estimated population of Greater New York is 5,333,537 and of Greater London 7,448,681. More than half the population of New York State is now contained in New York City, and it is increasing at the rate of 17,000 monthly. Part of the East Side below 14th Street is the world's most populous area, containing a population equal to that of Delaware, Nevada, Arizona and Alaska combined. The commuting area of New York City embraces a total of 6,846,097 souls.

FACTS ABOUT NEW YORK CITY

The assessed valuations of taxable real and personal property in Greater New York in 1914 were.................. $8,390,155,472

The assessments for 1915 show a substantial increase, the total valuations being.................. $8,460,815,992

The rates per $1,000 of assessed value for 1915 are as follows: Manhattan, $1.87; Brooklyn, $1.92; The Bronx, $1.94; Queens, $1.95; Richmond, $2.24.

In Manhattan alone, $70,000,000 was expended in new buildings during the past year.

The appropriation for the Department of Education in 1914 was $38,203,406.92 and in 1915 it is $39,990,349.90. School Buildings are paid for with the proceeds of city bonds, and the amount issued since consolidation has been $109,135,698, computed to July 2, 1914.

New York spends on an average each year $7,315,000 on its fire department.

Ten thousand, eight hundred and forty-three policemen keep law and order at an average annual cost of $16,800,611.

The average daily consumption of water is 544,000,000 gallons. Ashokan Reservoir, with a storage capacity of 132,000,000,000 gallons is under construction. It is estimated the approximate cost of same will be $176,857,000.

New York has a total park area of 7,683.23 acres, to which must be added the magnificent Palisades of the Hudson—"The Rhine of America."

New York has a public debt of $920,722,995.

New York spends annually $192,995,551 in its City Government.

Transactions of the New York Clearing House for 1914 showed average daily clearings of.................. $296,238,762

Imports and Exports from the Port of New York totalled for the year 1914:

Imports	1,040,380,526
Exports	864,546,338

New York is the greatest seaport in the world, the tonnage entering during 1914 totalling	15,767,547
as compared with Antwerp	13,686,729
and London	10,800,716

New York City produces one-tenth of all the manufactured products of the United States; it manufactures the clothing worn by over half the population of the entire country, and produces over one-fourth of all the print goods manufactured for the entire Nation; it produces about 30 per cent of all the pianos and piano-players manufactured in the country. The Bronx Borough has become the foremost centre of this industry and annually turns out piano products valued at more than $15,000,000.

BRIDGES, TUNNELS AND SUBWAYS

New York, owing to its characteristic conformation, has been under the necessity of providing adequate transportation facilities for the vast population that come to and go from Manhattan Borough each day. The East River has been spanned with the Brooklyn Bridge at a cost of $10,000,000, the Williamsburg Bridge at a cost of over $14,000,000, the Queensboro Bridge at a cost of nearly $18,000,000 and the Manhattan Bridge at a cost of $26,000,000. The latter is probably the greatest suspension bridge in the world. The steel towers over which the cables are swung are 336 feet high. The bridge itself is 135 feet above mean high water.

Nine great tunnelling subway systems aid the bridges in transportation and three more are contemplated; in 1913 it was announced that contracts involving a further expenditure of $366,000,000 were signed. An intricate net-work of elevated, electric and surface lines cover the city, and some thirty-one different ferry companies take care of the overflow.

RAILROAD TERMINALS

New York stands first in terminal facilities, with the Grand Central Terminal of 79 acres and Pennsylvania Terminal of 28 acres, as against 8.75 acres occupied by London Waterloo Station, 11.02 acres occupied by Paris St. Lazare, 11 acres occupied by Frankfort Main Station, and 13 acres occupied by Washington Union Station. Seventeen railroads center in or around Manhattan.

A CITY OF CITIES

One million, two hundred and eighteen thousand, four hundred and eighty immigrants poured into this country during the year 1914, the great majority through the gate-way of New York and from thence distributed themselves throughout the country, but a residue of 344,660 remained in New York State and a large proportion in the city itself.

This constant influx of all races, each class with its own standard of law, convention or custom, requires many and varied methods of handling, and, considering the problem involved, the police and kindred departments have succeeded exceedingly well.

The natural tendency of each race is to either find or constitute its own environment within the city itself and as a consequence we find cities within the city, each characteristic and individual to itself, their importance and strength being graded by corresponding strength of their racial immigration.

It has been said that New York has more Irish than Dublin, more Italians than Rome, more Russians than Kieff, and so on. One need but tour the city to realize this. He may eat, drink and find entertainment in Italian, Hungarian, German, Chinese or Russian restaurants, and, if his knowledge of the various languages of the earth is sufficiently complete, find the news of the day in Arabic, Armenian, Bohemian, Chinese, Danish, Finnish, French, German, Greek, Hungarian, Italian, Japanese, Norwegian, Polish, Spanish, or Swedish news, papers.

On lower Second Avenue we find the bulk of the Hungarian population, and adjoining this district on the south and east is the Ghetto-comprising the most densely populated district in the world, with its own synagogues, lawyers, physicians, etc., etc.

South again, in what was formerly the old Fourth Ward, and extending to the East River, we find the Greek Colony, and crossing the Bowery we come into an Italian environment that faithfully duplicates many of the characteristics and customs of Italy itself. In the old First Ward we find the Turks, Assyrians, Egyptians and East Indians.

There is a distinctive German neighborhood in and about 86th Street, east of Third Avenue, and what may be termed the American section is on Washington Heights.

"THE MELTING POT"

Along Seventh Avenue from 40th Street down we find races in transition from foreign to American who, no longer "immigrants," will soon cease to be "foreigners," and here, side by side, we find a conglomeration of Swiss and Italian, French and German, Russian and Greek nationalities.

Throughout the city and constituting its population we find in all some forty races—some grouped in distinctive neighborhoods and others scattered through the population of the city itself without any fixed defining line. The English-speaking races seem to have no defined habitat, but the restrictions of language and national customs throw foreign immigrants together in certain limited centres till they acquire a mastery of English language and American customs, when they emerge from sectional boundaries, venture into the cosmopolitan life of the great city, and become in course of time true Americans.

RETROSPECT

It may be appropriate to give here a short retrospect of the history of the New York City Directory.

David Franks, who styled himself a "Conveyancer and Accountant," published the first New York City Directory in 1786.

The tiny volume contained 854 names spread over thirty-two pages; and included also an almanac, tables of coins, etc.

In the preface of the book Mr. Franks humbly requests that "the public may indulgently excuse any errors, inaccuracies or omissions which may appear, and impute them only to the local disadvantages he labored under in his first attempt."

In that simpler New York of long ago some quaint and now forgotten callings were common. Ironmongers, tavern keepers, vintners, peruke makers, cordwainers, scriveners, etc., are some of the occupations listed in the first edition.

As if by fate's irony the names of Aaron Burr and Alexander Hamilton are given close together under the heading "Lawyers"—both at that time not knowing in what fearful drama they later on were to be the chief actors.

There is local history on every page of that little volume, and during the famous sale of the Robert Hoe library a copy brought the remarkable sum of $2,275.00, or about $2.65 for each name the Directory contained.

Keeping pace with the wonderful growth of New York, the City Directory has through more than a century been a sure indicator of the mighty changes that caused little provincial New York to become the Metropolis of the Western World.

New York City claims the superlative in many fields of human activity; it has the tallest buildings in the world, is the mightiest of all seaports, is the greatest factory city in the world, is the richest of all cities, and now Polk has given to it another leader—the greatest City Directory.

For the first time in its history New York now has an accurate, complete, up-to-date Directory embracing the names not only of individuals showing their occupations, home addresses, etc., arranged in alphabetical order, but also of corporations and co-partnerships followed by the names of officers or partners as well as a complete classified business directory—in one volume.

Constructive criticism of this work is invited and will be appreciated by the publishers.

To make each succeeding edition of the New York City Directory more accurate and more helpful to the many thousands consulting its pages—that shall be the aim of the publishers.

Stability AND Permanency

Do you realize that a City Directory advertisement is a testimonial to the permanency, the stability, of the advertiser?

That's the sort of concern all of us want to patronize, because we know when they sell us merchandise they are behind it in every way, today, tomorrow, and for the years to come.

"Fly-by-night," "fire-sale" and other temporary or "get-rich-quick" concerns rarely appear in the City Directory.

And it is a noteworthy fact that the concerns which advertise one year in the city directory are there again next year. 90% of directory advertising is renewed.

Directory advertising, is profitable. In connection with the classified business headings it is doubly effective.

May we explain how and why it will pay you?
